DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 06/26/08 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2, 4-5, 7, 15, 18, 21 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

3. Applicant's arguments, see page 9 lines 3-4, filed 05/23/08, with respect to the specification have been fully considered and are persuasive. The objection of the specification has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-2, 4-5, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boon US 6,259,734 B1.

6. As to claim 1, Boon teaches an image decoder for decoding encoded motion picture data composed of plural frames of image data and for displaying the decoded motion picture data; [abstract; fig. 14] the image decoder comprising: an electric power source having consumable energy for supplying electric power to respective units of the image decoder; [Fig. 14 (10); Abstract; It would be obvious that the decoder unit is supplied with electric power] means for determining the remaining energy of said source; [fig. 14 (722); col. 36 lines 46-65] a decoding means for decoding the frames of image data of the encoded motion picture data; [Abstract; Fig. 14] at an adjustable image frame rate to provide an adjustable number of bits per pixel of the decoded motion picture; [Col. 12 lines 61-67; abstract; fig. 15; col. 39 lines 5-27] means for measuring the amount of energy that was consumed during a decoding time interval; [fig. 14; col. 36 lines 46-65] means for estimating the amount of energy anticipated to decode and display remaining motion picture data as a function of the measurement amount of energy that was consumed; [fig. 14; col. 36 lines 46-65] a displaying means for displaying each image data of the decoded motion picture data; [fig. 16 (c)] a controlling means for controlling the decoding means on the basis of a difference between said anticipated energy needed for decoding and displaying the motion picture data and the remaining energy of the electric power source dynamically control the playing quality of the motion picture data by selectively reducing number of bits per pixel. [fig. 14; col. 36 lines 46 - col. 37 line 7; col. 37 lines 15-30]

Boon does not explicitly teach a display.

However, a computer system is taught and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that the computer system is capable of displaying images.

7. As to claim 2, Boon teaches means for deterring the remaining energy comprises a load monitoring means for monitoring the computational load of the decoding means.

[fig. 14; col. 36 lines 46-65]

8. As to claim 4, see the discussion of claim 1 above.

9. As to claim 5, see the discussion of claim 2 above.

10. As to claim 7, see the discussion of claim 1 above.

11. As to claim 15, Boon teaches an image decoder for decoding encoded motion picture data composed of plural frames of image data and for displaying the decoded motion picture data; [abstract; fig. 14] the image decoder comprising: a decoding means for decoding the frames of the encoded motion picture data; [abstract; fig. 14] a displaying means for displaying the frames of the decoded motion picture data; [fig. 16 (c)] and a controlling means for anticipating the time needed to display a predetermined number of frames on the basis of the number of frames that can be displayed during a unit time for controlling the decoding means to dynamically control the number of bits per pixel of the decoded image data on the basis of said anticipated time. [fig. 14; col. 36 lines 46-65]

12. As to claim 18, see the discussion of claim 15 above.

13. As to claim 21, see the discussion of claim 15 above.
